

Research Seminar

“Civil Rights and Human Rights of Migrants – U.S. and European Perspectives”

Time: January 14th, 2019, 10:00–18:00 Uhr

Location: Justus Liebig University Giessen, Faculty of Law, Chair of Public Law and European Law,
Licher Str. 64 (Campus Recht und Wirtschaftswissenschaften)

Hiroshi Motomura, University of California, Los Angeles:

“Civil Rights of migrants in the US, Human Rights of migrants in Europe – different in form, equivalent in substance?”

Janna Wessels, Justus Liebig University Giessen:

“The Human Rights of migrants in the jurisprudence of the ECtHR: A Laodicean Court?”

Michaela Hailbronner, Westfälische Wilhelms-Universität Münster:

“Constructing the Global Constitutional Canon: Between Authority and Criticism”

Anuscheh Farahat, Goethe University Frankfurt:

“Thoughts on temporality and permanence in labor migration in light of the Global Compact for Migration”

Jürgen Bast, Justus Liebig University Giessen:

“Thoughts on the human right to non-discrimination based on “other status” in immigration law”